The event was well attended by LEPC members throughout the area and industry representatives. This event was valuable to the members who were able to attend the workshop by providing information to reinforce the mission of LEPCs and promote partnerships between public and private agencies involved in hazardous material release planning and response. To review presentations from this event please visit: www.epaosc.org/lepcworkshops . The committee also briefly discussed the Local Governments Reimbursement (LGR) program that was presented at the workshop. In the event of a release (or threatened release) of hazardous substances, Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) may reimburse local governments for expenses related to the release and associated emergency response measures. The LGR Program provides a "safety net" of up to $25,000 per incident to local governments that do not have funds available to pay for response actions. More information on the LGR program can be found at: <http://www2.epa.gov/emergency-response/local-governments-reimbursement-program>
